

28B-132m

The image is a technical map or diagram. It features a yellow-shaded irregular area at the top, possibly representing a specific region or boundary. A blue circle containing the text '28B-132m' is positioned in the center. A blue diagonal line runs from the top right towards the center. Two green lines extend downwards from the yellow area, one on the left and one on the right. The background consists of thin grey lines that form a network, likely representing a road or utility grid.
